The Company's technical report titled "NI 43-101 Technical Report and Mineral Resource Estimate for the Nisk Project, Eeyou Istchee James Bay territory, Quebec" (the "Technical Report") does not comply with certain technical requirements of National Instrument 43-101 - Standards of Disclosure for Mineral Products ("NI 43-101"). The Company's mineral resource estimates provided in the Technical Report do not comply with NI 43-101 and such mineral resource estimates, as disclosed in the Technical Report and Power Nickel's related news releases since July 19, 2022, may not be relied upon, until they are supported with a compliant report.

The Company is working to prepare an amended technical report (the "Amended Technical Report"). In addition to conducting the metallurgical analysis and the requirement for a new site visit to the Nisk Project by an author of the Amended Technical Report, the report will also include the results of the Company's current drill program that is underway now and expected to be completed by mid-December 2022.

The Company does not yet know the definitive time frame to complete the Amended Technical Report but believes a Q1 delivery date is probable.

Kenneth Williamson, P.Geo., M.Sc., consultant to the Company, is the Qualified Person who has reviewed and approved the technical disclosure in this news release.
